

SPENDS 25 DAYS
ON A SUBMARINE

Lieut. Fulcher Describes Experiences While Prisoner On Hun U-Boat.

London, Eng., Nov. 24.—Lieut. James Fulcher, of Princeton, N. C., who, with Lieut. Frank H. Muller, of Oakland, Calif., was taken on board the German submarine Deutschland from the torpedoed American army cargo ship Ticonderoga September 20 and was brought to Harwich yesterday by the U-boat, was wounded severely in the thigh when the Ticonderoga went down, according to Harwich correspondents of the Daily Express.

He escaped on a raft and was picked up by the U-boat. Lieut. Muller was taken aboard by the same boat, but Lieut. Fulcher did not learn of his presence until some days later.

Has Bath in Rain.
"They gave me a drink of brandy and questioned me about American troops and other things," said Lieut. Fulcher in an interview. "I was then taken to the forepeak, where I had to sleep with not less than five other soldiers, who lived in this dungeon. The first bath I had was when a rain squall hit the submarine while I was on deck."

"On the eighth day of my captivity, Germany sent a peace note to president Wilson and on the 11th day the submarine was recalled from the American coast. On the 13th day, we encountered a Norwegian vessel from New York to Australia. She was captured and sunk after her provisions had been transferred and the crew turned adrift in a small boat 1000 miles from land."

Fires on English Ship.
"We fired 60 shots at an English sailing ship two days later, but two British cruisers appeared and we submerged to a depth of 150 feet. The cruisers dropped depth charges and the submarine trembled."

"On October 25, when the U-boat was recalled, I had been on board 25 days. When I arrived at Kiel, I was told I would be sent home by way of Copenhagen, but later two officers came and told me I could go to England on one of the surrendered submarines if I wished. I accepted gladly and found that the U-boat was the same one which had torpedoed my ship."

"The Germans treated me very well, but I have come to the conclusion that if a man can stand 25 days, as I have, on a German U-boat, he can stand anything."

Lieut. Muller was brought on the same boat with Lieut. Fulcher.

CAPT. H. E. ROBERTSON'S

WOUND WAS NOT SERIOUS

Capt. Henry E. Robertson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Robertson, 112 Montana street, whose name appears in the list of wounded, was determined in Monday's Herald, received a machine gun bullet wound in the leg at the battle of St. Mihiel. The wound was not serious, his parents were informed. He is an officer in the 54th machine gun battalion.

Other El Pasoans in Monday's list are: Pvt. Joe Durant, nearest relative, El Paso; Capt. Clarence R. Edwards, wounded severely; Corp. Grant Hanson, wounded, degree undetermined; nearest relative, Mrs. M. J. Hodges, address not given; and Pvt. Joseph Michael King, wounded slightly, nearest relative, Mrs. Joseph M. King, 1212 East Rio Grande street.

KHAKI AGAIN PROMINENT

IN EL PASO, "LID" OFF

Khaki is again prominent in the streets of El Paso, the quarantine at Fort Bliss having been lifted Saturday evening at 6 o'clock, after the men had been confined to the post since October 14 on account of the influenza epidemic.

Most of the men had no intimation other than rumors of a week's standing that the quarantine would be lifted until the last minute, and the result was a rush for the Fort Bliss terminus. All incoming cars for several hours were crowded with men from the post.

Moving picture shows and eating places, where they went to get a change of diet, were probably the most popular places for the men.

ITALY'S STAND
EXPLAINED HERE

Colonel Pio Says United States Came To Rescue
At the Right Time.

Lieut. Col. Americo Pio, 51st royal Italian infantry, three times wounded in action during his four years in the war, now attached to the Italian embassy in Washington and making a tour of the United States telling the American people the story of his country during the war, spoke to a large number of people Saturday night in the hall of the chamber of commerce.

J. H. McElroy, vice chairman of the county council of defense, presided over the assembly and introduced the speaker, Col. Pio, who was accompanied to the hall by Col. J. A. Wagner, district quartermaster; O. C. Coles, president of the chamber of commerce; and George R. Leland, secretary of the council of defense. The Fifth cavalry band, Lieut. E. J. H. Bush leader, played, the audience sang when the national anthems of Italy and of the United States were played.

Alliance for Defense.

Col. Pio gave the history of Italy leading up to the war, showing that it entered the triple alliance on the faith that it was for defense only, and that when his country realized that Germany and Austria had world domination in view, his country withdrew and joined the allies. A great many American people have not fully understood the agreement of 20 years standing, and the speaker said it was largely to acquaint them with the facts that he was making this tour.

Shows Terrible Suffering.
The speaker outlined the terrible sufferings of his people and the fearful undertaking the war had been. He said that more than 60,000 Italian soldiers had perished in avalanches alone; that Austria had the mountain passes all well fortified and his country had no roads or means of approach and that it had been a tremendous task to break through the Austrian lines.

He thought that had the United States entered the war earlier, it would have found transporting soldiers across the submarine-infested seas a much greater task. He said that the United States had certainly come at the proper time to the rescue of Italy, for its food supply, its ammunition and its money were nearly exhausted when this country furnished everything that was needed.

Says Visit Causes

Sunday afternoon Col. Pio addressed the soldiers at the army "C" at Fort Bliss. He said, "If you boys who are of Italian birth ever go back to your country, be sure to take your children to the graves of the American soldiers who gave their lives to save the country of your forefathers."

At noon Col. Pio was given a luncheon by the Italian-American colony. Other guests who accompanied Col. Pio were Col. John Wagner, and Victor Caruso.

ROY SCOTTON TO RECEIVE

MEDAL FOR HEROIC ACT

Ray Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Scott, of El Paso, and one of Uncle Sam's jackars, is home on furlough. His reported loss has been recommended for a medal for his action in saving two men from drowning in an accident in the waters about the New Orleans naval station, reported here recently.

Robert R. Bryant, son of deputy sheriff R. E. Bryant, is also home on furlough. He was stationed at the New Orleans station with the Scotts boy at the time of the accident, which took place during an attempt to raise a sunken tug.

The resignation of Gen. Crozier, former chief of ordnance, with 42 years of service to his credit, was announced yesterday.
